MOVE
ILLINOIS

The Illinois Tollway
DRIVING
THE FUTURE

The Illinois Tollway's Move Illinois Program has been the springboard to new growth for Quigg Engineering. In the past year alone, the Springfield-based firm has added 20 new employees and a fourth regional office.

Quigg Engineering's work on Move Illinois includes nearly $1 million in contracts for systemwide surveying services and engineering and construction management services, including environmental assessments, structural inspections and construction surveys.

The firm has also worked with the Illinois Tollway on disadvantaged business enterprise (DBE) documentation and compliance in the field and has conducted classes on erosion control for Tollway staff.

In building a strong business with the ability to plan for steady development over the next decade, Lori attributes much of her success to the Tollway's commitment to diversity and forward thinking.

Through Move Illinois, Lori has been able to mentor other minority- and women-owned business enterprises and actively recruits recent college graduates to join her firm because of its solid position and increasing potential with the Illinois Tollway.

Quigg Engineering has five interns currently on staff and plans to add to that number. Her goal is to inspire young people to get into the field of engineering and create sustainable job growth for the next generation in Illinois.

"I greatly appreciate the Illinois Tollway's encouragement of my efforts to bring in other DBE firms to my projects. There is a lot of work that needs to be done and I consider it a privilege to mentor other small and diverse firms that are trying to get their chance to be part of it, just as I was in 2012. Move Illinois has made this a business priority."
