

The Illinois Tollway is aggressively working with its partners to build the foundation and invest in the future for a stronger, better Illinois. It's no doubt 2017 was a milestone year for the agency and helped lay the groundwork for future success. The investments made across the Tollway's 294-mile system are providing a safer, better connected and integrated transportation network while positioning Illinois to be more competitive and innovative.

With these investments, Illinois is poised for providing the economic infrastructure that will take this great state to the forefront of innovation, opportunity and growth. It is this type of forward-thinking momentum that will attract the businesses, workforce and quality of life to invigorate economic growth in Illinois and affirm our position in the global marketplace.

As we continue to invest in our state and our transportation infrastructure, we're providing greater opportunities for people and businesses to prosper. I applaud the Tollway's progress in 2017 and look forward to what's next in 2018.
